

When Hearts Grow Cold

Kayak

When shadows fall
Over the valleys
Beneath the clouds that obscure the sun
Who can recall
A dream, once it's over
And everything's been said and done

If I could hold you in my arms just one more time
If I could simply take away the distance between our minds
Forget the sadness in your eyes
The bitterness and lies
No love can hold
When hearts grow cold

We find ourselves
Losing a treasure
We never knew we had - 'till it was gone

I still want to hold you in my arms just one more time
And simply kiss away the distance between our minds
Forget the sadness in your eyes
The secrets and the lies
No love can hold
When hearts grow cold