

Georgia Woods

Keith Urban

What kind of spell is this
That you've cast on me with your kiss?
It's like I've lost all control of my senses
This is not like me
To give in so easily
I'm dropping my guard and I'm leaving my heart defenseless
Oh, but I'm feeling good
Here beneath the pines of the Georgia woods

And what a surprise,
Here by my side
It's more than a full moon shining and it's driving me crazy
I waited so long
For something this strong
And now I gotta be falling cause I'm already calling you baby

There's nobody here to see
The sparks 'tween you and me
We better be careful my love or the woods will be burning
Or maybe we just give in,
Throw caution to the wind
It's fate, either way, we ain't got any say in the matter

And what a surprise,
Here by side
It's more than a full moon shining and it's driving me crazy
I waited so long
For something this strong
And I gotta be falling cause I'm already calling you baby

Uh huh
Oh take me down town
Uh huh

Yeah, I waited so long
For something this strong
And I know I'm falling cause I'm already calling you Oh

What a surprise,
Here by your side
It's more than a full moon shining and it's driving me crazy
Oh waited so long
For something this strong
And we know I'm falling cause I'm already calling you
Oh calling you baby
Yeah, uh huh
