

Broadside!

Keldian

I am just a simple man, I just do what I can I am no leader but they follow me I give no promises nor lies

We used to share this dream now it is lost it would seem your greed for power, your precious policies your laws took everything from me

All channels hail
to hell with all confederation sails there'll be no talking today this place is our own, we're not going away

Broadside!
it is you who can't hide from our
broadside!
she was the hammer of the stars
broadside!
we will never stand down from our
broadside!
striking fear in your hearts

This is a lost man's path, one of vengeance and wrath but there is hope for those who follow me you may see liberty again

We came from lightyears away relentless, defiant, we stay no silver-tongued emissary can save you now you took everyone from me

All channels hail
to hell with all confederation sails it is a good day to die all weapons free, light up the sky

Broadside!
it is you who can't hide from our
broadside!
she was the hammer of the stars
broadside!
we will never stand down from our
broadside!
striking fear in your hearts
broadside!
