Falling into the sky
Falling into each other
Falling into the sky
Falling into each other

Saw you then, it fucked me up
But I'm working out it's just my luck
Shoulda said can we go to bed
(Now you go)
Now we're back to where we started from
And I wait, oh wait
And I wait for you to turn around
But I know you're right
We're never coming down
And I know you've thought about it
Though we've been miles away
If you ask me, I'll tell you it's happening

Damn, did we have a good time
Spinning around, we couldn't get up around
Damn, if we put up a fight
I'm trying to push it, don't lemme lose it now

Been waiting for today
But I don't know what to say
And you don't know you done it
But I'm in my head and I can't forget you later on

Stop
Let me catch my breath
Realising you ain't seen me yet
(It's not the same)
It's all I dreamed of (as before)
It came, it started
Just a little bit late
It's early morning now
Then we talk it out
It's hard to figure out
We're getting looks but they can say what they wanna say
If they ask me, I'll tell them either way

(Souls didn't know what to find)
Despite what you took, I miss what you gave
Will you stay now?
(Was spinning around then you turned it around)
'Cause winter's always warmer when you're round

Been waiting for today
But I don't know what to say
And you don't know you done it
But I'm in my head and I can't forget you later on
Been waiting for today
But I don't know what to say
And you don't know you done it
But I'm in my head
Even later on
Been waiting for today

But I don't know what to say
And you don't know you done it
But I'm in my head and I can't forget you later on

Falling into the sky
Falling into each other
Falling into the sky
Falling into each other
