

What You Gonna Do

Ken Hensley

What you gonna do?

What you gonna do
When the phone stops ringing
What you gonna do
When the world stops singing your song

What you gonna say
When the party's over
Where you gonna turn
When it all starts going wrong

How you gonna feel
When your heart starts breaking
When the world you thought you knew
Leaves you cold and shaking
'Cause it's all been taken, it's gone

Can you take your hurting heart
Into a brand new start
And celebrate what you do have
Or are you gonna hang your head
Each time the light turns red
And blame the world cause you feel bad

What you gonna do?

How you gonna feel
When your heart starts breaking
When the world you thought you knew
Leaves you cold and shaking
'Cause it's all been taken, it's gone

Brother don't you understand
There's a bigger plan
And you've just finished the first part
You can take a little faith
Into a better place
And face the truth with a new heart

What you gonna do?
