

Louisiana Rain

Kenny Wayne Shepherd

Louisiana rain
Can't hold a flame to you
It's a thousand shades of gray
It's a million shades of blue
It's a different state of mind back there
It's a different kind of truth

I can't tell you why, anymore
I won't even try, anymore
Try to feel it upside down
Time to turn these wheels around
Too much sun here anyway
Louisiana rain...

History's no time machine
It's a photograph at most
Another day, another page
That's how the story goes

Hit the gas and it all starts to blur
Time to let it lead me home

I can't tell you why, anymore
I won't even try, anymore
Try to feel it upside down
Time to turn these wheels around
Too much sun here anyway
Louisiana rain

Louisiana rain
Can't hold a flame to you

See the snow clouds rolling in
Sweet redemption on the wind
Flows like heaven on my skin
Louisiana rain
Where I've lived and where I'm bound
To all I've lost and all I've found
What I'm holding onto now
Louisiana rain
Louisiana rain

Louisiana rain
Louisiana rain
