

We Are The Young

Kensington

take me down the road
take me where you need me to where all their arms hold me like they love me calm down
calm down
when all their eyes are on me
calm down
calm down
when all their eyes are cold for older ones on the run
we share the same blood

walk me down that road
lift me up or tear me down they'll take it all
quickly to abandon

calm down
when all their eyes are on me
calm down
when all their eyes look home

is there ever enough (7x)
to go by
to go by

we are the same
