

Children of Sky and Sea

Kerion

Night has fallen on my town and I'm closing my eyes
Everything around me turned out to be all a lie"
I had to make my way through darkened stormy skies
I had to climb the clouds to paradise

I can't get you out of my mind, how you mesmerize
The sweetness of your lips whispers lullabies
Help me to find the key and together we will rise
I will bring you back home, yes I promise, I promise

Here we are children of sky and sea
Flying high to see
The sun shining for all eternity

Fear and doubt have poisoned my thoughts so I wonder
In my long troubled nights, will I find all the answers?
Sometimes I am tired of trying to become stronger
And I wish I could put my head on your shoulder
The moon enlightens your face with gold and silver
Everything about you just makes me feel so better
Now my destiny belongs to you forever
And I'm longing for the touch of your fingers

Here we are children of sky and sea
Flying high to see
The sun shining for all eternity
Even if the world is burning, we will be together
Even if the sky is torn apart by thunder
Even if our hopes sink like a stone under water
I will be close to you and you'll be mine forever

Even if the world burns we will be together
Even if the sky is torn apart by thunder
Even if our hopes sink like a stone under water
I will be close to you and you will be mine forever
