

Final Strike Part 2

Kerion

Today I fight for tomorrow now comes the fate of the hero this is my last battle I know sun shines over the shadow can my sword carry the final victory open a way to your own destiny my friends, I promise, you will show to your children the land where they will grow this is the old dream I follow my hope stronger than my sorrow
can my sword carry the final victory
open a way to your own destiny winds of revolution blow their might on the ground warriors of oppression, we will fight you until the end time has come for the final strike all united against the legion time has come for a new twilight all united to win our freedom.