

March of the Legion

Kerion

step by step walking to your land one by one all your walls will fall...you will fall dust to dust you will return to the ground face to face with the devil as guest...came for your rest now you are the witness of the cruel rise of darkness...you seem hopeless bloody battle is going to begin from your castle do you think you can win?...can you win?

Time has come for you to face the legion Skulls and walking-dead scream in unison

Here we are the legion of chaos figthing for death and sorrow Here we are the legion of chaos coming from the flames of Hell day by day we are growing fast and you ask how long it will last?...it will last striking like a volcano blast do wizards know the spell to cast?...what spell to cast
