

I see you're fucking upon everything
But it still won't get me out of here
All your stories are not interesting
And you're about to win

You realised that your troubles would end
It hurts my eyes when I saw it was all pretend
You were so high You could legally fly my friend
You were yo high that you could not define what's that
It hurts my eyes when I saw it was all pretend
I reached the sky but the limit ain't got no end
You were so high that yooou could legally fly
You were so high that you could not define what's that
And now I see what it means when you're joking with me
And I can hardly be me when you're looking like this
I let it in, I let it in, I let it in
And you're about to win

You realised that your troubles would end
It hurts my eyes when I saw it was all pretend
You were so high You could legally fly my friend
You were yo high that you could not define what's that
It hurts my eyes when I saw it was all pretend
I reached the sky but the limit ain't got no end
You were so high that yooou could legally fly
You were so high that you could not define what's that
See you're working in the little things
You were so high You could legally fly my friend
You were yo high that you could not define what's that

I see they're not doing better
But we're doing fine, we're doing finde
