

No More Walking Away

No More Walking Away-Kim Mitchell

Precious heart, don't be shy,
I was alone, until you opened my eyes,
Here, and now, in each others arms,
We will try, one small step at a time.

Precious heart, just let it out,
You're not alone in your crying time,
Here and now, in each others hearts,
We will cry out, one heartache at a time.

If you lose faith, in times of doubt, I will understand,

No more walking away, I make a promise to stay,
No more walking away, promise to stay,
Never distant again,
No more walking away.

Precious heart, lets talk it out,
You're not alone and confused about love,
Here and now, in rythm and rime,
We will work out, our frustrations in time,

So when you climb the walls, of worry and doubt, I will understand.

No more walking away, I made a promise to stay,
No more walking away, promise to stay,
Never distant again,
No more walking away.
