

Reel Me In

Kim Richey

Tell me what you're gonna do, and I'll believe you once again
Don't let this be the battle that you're afraid to win
Sit there with your visions, your tonic and your gin
Tattoo scenes of paradise all over my skin

And I'll take the fall, you take the ride
I'll take the hit, you let it slide
Reel me in, reel me in
Reel me in, reel me in

I'm still in love, I'm still in fear, there's something in your eyes
I don't know why they're so intense when you intend to lie
I could say this is the last time, meaning every word
Why give into reason when love is so absurd

I'll take the fall, you take the ride
I'll take the hit, and you let it slide
Reel me in, reel me in
Reel me in, reel me in

One, two

And I'll take the fall, you take the ride
I'll take the hit, and you let it slide
Reel me in, reel me in
Reel me in, reel me in
