

Sweet Mysteries

Kim Richey

I get to thinking sometimes
I don't know why
I stare into the darkness
Looking for some light

And I lie awake and wonder
Late at night
Why am I the lucky one
Who has you by my side?

Why does a star fall from the sky?
How does the sun know when to rise?
I don't know how it came to be
But you fell in love with me
It's one of life's sweet mysteries

Where would I be without you?
It's hard to say
What if our paths had never
Crossed along the way

Oh, I was meant to love you
I know that's true
So that must be the reason
I'm here now with you

Why does a star fall from the sky?
How does the sun know when to rise?
I don't know how it came to be
But you fell in love with me
It's one of life's sweet mysteries

It's one of life's sweet mysteries
It's one of life's sweet mysteries