You caught my eye, couldn't take them off of you And I knew that you felt the same way too

Finished before it started One look then we parted

I couldn't speak, I felt one with you I was afraid, what else could I do

Love is patient and kind Bears and believes all things Some say its blind But I can't see a thing

Finished before it started One look then we parted