

Legal Kill

King's X

Only know what I believe
The rest is so absurd to me
I close my eyes so I cant see

But the picture just gets clearer everyday
I read somewhere to learn is to remember
And I've learned we all forgot

There was peace in her before
But that was yesterday
But I can see the beauty that is here for me
The chance to live and walk free
From a legal kill

I know your side so very well
It makes no sense that I can tell
The smell of hell is what I smell

And you hand it out with handshakes everyday
I have trouble with the persons with the signs
But I feel the need to make my own
Yes there are two ways to be
And truth does not depend on me
But I can feel the fight for life is always real
I cant believe its no big deal
Its a legal kill
