

Marionette

King the Kid

I'm scared to break it down and start from nothing tried selling out cuz I wanna be something

I'm on top of the world and I don't know it yet

I changed my mind, changed my heart, changed my life for you you said it all before the fall, I'm fucking done with you

My hands are tied behind my back and I'm breaking out

Your time is up, my time is now It's in the air can you feel it my life is finally in my hands

Burn like a cigarette
I'm not your marionette

I ran away to escape your nightmare you say you care but I know you don't fight fair

Another promise on the list that I knew you'd break

I changed my mind, changed my heart, changed my life for me
I said it all, put up a wall I'm doing this for me

I cut the strings above my head I bet you're freaking out

I never want to live a life of lies again believing what I'm feeling, I hear it loud and clear
