

In Your Eyes Another Life

Kip Winger

I always knew it'd be
Always knew I'd see you again

And here now, right in front of me
Just like destiny, my old friend

Time carried me
I searched the sky
I searched the sea

In your eyes another life
In your love another time
Heard you cry from the other side
In your eyes another life

The end came, promised jealousy
Took you away from me in the end
Life then, a rusting memory
I vowed that I would see you again

Time carried me
I searched the sky
I searched the sea

In your eyes another life
In your love another time
Heard you cry from the other side
In your eyes another life

Sacred in you
Sacred in me
This love we share eternally

The end came, promised jealousy
But I always knew I'd see you again
