

Island Of Life

Kitaro

She sees me, she understands
She helps with all of my fears
When we stand together for life
Who will hold a child in her arms

She reaches out, so many friends
Who seek to live this world
When we stand together for life
She will hold a child in her arms

Without woman, earth would fade and die
Without woman who am I?
Who am I on this island of faith?
Who am I on this island of life?

You are the sea, you are the sky
You are the ocean
I am the earth, I am the island of your love

She listens, she understands
For those searching for truth
We will stand together for life
We will hold a child in our arms

Without woman, earth would fade and die
Without woman who am I?
Who am I on this island of faith?
Who am I on this island of life?

You are the sea, you are the sky
You are the ocean
I am the earth, I am the island of your love

She sees me, she understands
She helps with all of my fears
When we stand together for life
She will hold a child in her arms

Without woman, earth would fade and die
Without woman who am I?
Who am I on this island of faith?
Who am I on this island of life?

You are the sea, you are the sky
You are the ocean
I am the earth, I am the island of your love

You are the sea, you are the sky
You are the ocean
I am the earth, I am the island of your love

Dreams are sent for the understanding of life
Dreams are sent for the understanding of love
