Whose Shoulder Will You Cry On

Kitty Wells

Once you were my life and breath And you rode your free horse to death Oh, you trifled around too much then you lost your loving touch Now, whose shoulder will you cry on?

You didn't love me all along 'Cause you can't love and do me wrong I don't trust you no more, so go knock on another's door And whose shoulder will you cry on?

Just let those hot tears burn your eyes They're just payments on the line That made a wreck of me from that chain I've been set free Now whose shoulder will you cry on?

You didn't love me all along 'Cause you can't love and do me wrong I don't trust you no more, so go knock on another's door And whose shoulder will you cry on?