

Behold The Silence

Klone

Deform memories.

Close the eyes to see... to see beyond the light
Is life worth anything when the cries aren't felt?
And leave these fears behind

The wage for paradise is increased by your sins
The sound of silence forgives no one
you can hear the wind blowing on the wings
Big birds watching you...
Who knows what is true ?

A long and tiring journey. In reflexion of your sins
You close your eyes to see...
...to see beyond the light
An in-depth look into your mind

The wage for paradise is increased by your sins

The sound of silence forgives no one

You walk to find the reason, your revelation
You walk and find the answer, your revolution
You close you eyes to see... to see beyond the light
An in-depth look into your mind

The wage for paradise is increased by your sins

The sound of silence forgives no one

You close you eyes to see

Is life worth anything when the cries aren't felt?
And leave these fears behind

You walk to find the reason
You walk to find an answer
You walk to find the reason, your revelation
You walk to find an answer, your revolution
