

Give Up The Rest

Klone

Should I remain isolated
The only things to change are my inner most feelings

It's time to give up the rest
For coming back wild
None of this matters any longer

The bleakness of the landscape and the waste of time
I surrender... I surrender to temptation

It's time to give up the rest
For coming back wild
None of this matters any longer

Hypnotized, fascinated,
Mesmerized and disturbed again
Transparency, isolate,
Definitely I am at a loss

There's nothing, there's nothing to say
There's no need, there's no need to stay

It's time to give up the rest
For coming back wild
None of this matters any longer

It's my only way
To find peace someday
Forgetting myself
I still fade away

There's nothing to say
There's no need to stay
