

Won't Burn Me

Knuckledust

Fight hard everyday, to take my mind back from the hate.
Inside I hold the pain that's poured on me. Staying focused is a struggle to hold on to my sanity. If I lose ain't nothing on this earth that can save me now.

You won't burn me. You call this being free? I ain't your slave I am your enemy. It's slavery to me.

Tell me I've got too much to lose 'coz I missed too many chances but would things be any other way? When I back my own choices, still the price grows higher everyday. I can't fail. It's what they want to see so I won't fall.

Deal with life the only way I know how, mic clenched, zoot lit, head held high. Born to rot, forced to fight
'coz fools confront with bullshit and lies. Don't want, Don't need but haters only want to see us bleed. Got nothing to lose, I won't fail. There's nothing to choose.
I won't fall.
