

What About You

Kongos

If you want to play the game again
You should know it always wins
But don't take my word
Just look around

(and) if you see a world of weather and wind
Stand your ground and take your aim
But don't feel ashamed
If you lose sight

And everything you need to win you can have
It's all right here enough for just a few to share

Not everybody wants to know
Why everybody goes
And no one seems to care
What led them over there
What about you
[x2]

(and) if you think about tomorrow today
Soon you'll find it's yesterday
But don't feel ashamed
If you lose your way

And everything you need to win you can have
It's all right here enough for just a few to share
Not everybody...