

Zero, where you been?
I've been wrapped up in red roses
Dripping virtue from my lips
Zero, where you been?
Are you breathing through the sutures
Count my likes and skip my sins
Hello, from the fence
I've been driving round in circles
I just end where I begin
Zero, is it bliss?
Got no signal got no service
But you're still under my skin

I daydream of disappearing
Close my eyes and drive the coast
Up the curve of California
I don't stop until I'm lost

Some days I believe - I believe in something
Some days I believe - I believe in nothing
You could say I won the lotto
That shit makes you fucking hollow
So I'm back at zero

Zero where you been
I've been tracing back my footsteps
I forgot how good it felt to be a
Floating piece of ash - between the future and a past
Zero are you here
Something sacred in this wasteland
Whisper in the atmosphere

I daydream of disappearing
Close my eyes and drive the coast
Up the curve of California
I don't stop until I'm lost

Some days I believe - I believe in something
Some days I believe - I believe in nothing
You could say I won the lotto
That shit makes you fucking hollow
So I'm back at zero
