Weathervane

Kris Delmhorst

Well the tree lie down beneath you The grasses bow & sway The sands rise to meet you The ocean it makes way

And you move through your directions And i turn my face away The grasses rise to meet you The ocean it makes way

Well i too can more the prairies I too can move the sea I'm gonna take that motion Take it right inside me

I'm gonna rattle at your windows
Rattle at your doors
Rattle at your shutters
Show you what they're for

No more weathervane, i'm gonna be the wind.

No more spin around, spin around but always face a way

No more weathervane.

I'm gonna be the wind.
