

Mirror

Kutless

I could hold the pain inside, but my reflection
Reveals the shame of my disguise,
Now I see there's nothing left to hide,
As my deception dies, I'm not afraid.

It's like looking in a mirror, I see You looking back at me,
I know You're watching over me, I feel it when You speak to me,

It couldn't be any clearer, I'm not going back,
But now I see my destiny, I know who I'm meant to be,
When I'm looking at the mirror, when I'm looking at the mirror.

So now I step into the light, of Your perfection,
I'm leaving everything behind,
Your love has brought me back to life
From my affliction, now I'll never be afraid.

It's like looking in a mirror, I see You looking back at me,
I know You're watching over me, I feel it when You speak to me,

It couldn't be any clearer, I'm not going back,
But now I see my destiny, I know who I'm meant to be,
When I'm looking at the mirror.

I don't wanna forget this moment of clarity,
when You opened up my eyes,
I don't wanna forget this moment You spent with me.

It's like looking in a mirror, I see You looking back at me,
I know You're watching over me, I feel it when You speak to me,

It couldn't be any clearer, I'm not going back,
But now I see my destiny, I know who I'm meant to be,
When I'm looking at the mirror, when I'm looking at the mirror.
When I'm looking at the mirror, when I'm looking at the mirror.
When I'm looking at the mirror.
