

Look Over Your Shoulder

Kwabs

I know what you've done,
Doesn't matter how you try to hide it, no
And you can run forever more
But you're only gonna get trapped inside it
Oh, no, oh

You can tryina shout it out in the morning
You can tryina embrace it in the evening
But you should listen long and hard to the warning,
'Cause soon enough that stuff it's gonna get you off

Better look over your shoulder and
Make sure that you're not lost
Better stay out of the shadows
When you wonder far from home
Better look over your shoulder, son
'Cause when you're on your own
It will creep into your head
and it will never let you go

Know where you've been Giving in to every temptation, oh
And you can leave anyway you want
If you can handle the creation, oh no

You can tryina shout it out in the morning
You can tryina embrace it in the evening
But you should listen long and hard to the warning,
'Cause soon enough that stuff it's gonna get you off

Better look over your shoulder and
Make sure that you're not lost
Better stay out of the shadows
When you wonder far from home
Better look over your shoulder, son
'Cause when you're on your own
It will creep into your head
and it will never let you go

Better look over your shoulder and
Make sure that you're not lost
Better stay out of the shadows
When you wonder far from home
Better look over your shoulder, son
'Cause when you're on your own
It will creep into your head
and it will never let you go
