

Alone In The Light

Kyle Park

It feels like I've been here for days
Sitting on the front porch alone
You up and left me like nothing had happened
Now I'm afraid to live life on my own

We had everything we could ask for Nothing was wrong so it seemed
I never could get enough of your love
But I'm afraid you had too much of me

BRIDGE

I cry into the night
My heart broken in two
My world slipping away
Hoping to be back with you

CHORUS

I'll still dance to the sound of our first slow song
And if I'm not crying I'll try and sing along
I'll come to recall all the moments that I held you tight
It felt so right
I'll Two-step to Conway and waltz to The King
Thinking of just one thing
Holding your body so close all through the night
But I dance all alone in the light

A friend of mine said that he saw you
Looking as good as before
He asked how you'd been and you said so much better
Since the day that you walked out my door

BRIDGE II

Now I cry into the night
My heart broken in two
My world slipping away
'Cause all I can think of is you