

Louisiana Boy

Kyle Park

Well I called in sick I had to get away
I was going crazy out here in LA
I need to go where the crawfish flowed like wine
Well I packed up my things and headed down the road
Took a little more than a week of free low
Going to Louisiana for a long, long time

One more day and I'll be there by dawn
I can't wait to see that state 'cause partner that's where I'm from

I'm a Louisiana boy grew up on the corner
I'm used to the people and I even drink their water
Been shucking them oysters since I was just a kid
Trapping alligators like my grandad did
I moved to the city where the girls looked pretty but now I'm back to stay
I'm a Louisiana boy with a pocket full of money and a love for the de lta bay

Well it used to be where everybody knew me
I was drinking liquor when I was thirteen
They called me the Cajun kid everywhere I'd go
But when I moved away I left it all behind
With my overalls and my gator skinned tie
I swore that I'd never come back to the life I know

But the city life was just to different for me
I'd move away but I'd just come back to keep on living down stream

I'm a Louisiana boy grew up on the corner
I'm used to the people and I even drink their water
Been shucking them oysters since I was just a kid
Trapping alligators like my grandad did
I moved to the city where the girls looked pretty but now I'm back to
stay
I'm a Louisiana boy with a pocket full of money and a love for the de lta bay

One more day and I'll be there by dawn
I can't wait to see that state 'cause partner that's where I'm from

I'm a Louisiana boy grew up on the corner
I'm used to the people and I even drink their water
Been shucking them oysters since I was just a kid
Trapping alligators like my grandad did
I moved to the city where the girls looked pretty but now I'm back to
stay
I'm a Louisiana boy with a pocket full of money and a love for the de lta bay

Yes I'm a Louisiana boy with a pocket full of money and a love for th e delta bay

All right