

What You'll Never Know

Kyle Park

Baby I don't want to fight about who did wrong or right
'Cause you know and I know what we both said tonight
Go ahead and run away; surely you'll be back someday
'Cause you know and I know what we both meant to say

And even though you hate me now for saying what I said out loud
To tell you the truth, somehow I thought that you would leave me long ago
'Cause of what I've kept from you, and everything I put you through
The devil would leave me too if only he knew what you'll never know

All the secrets and white lies that I hide behind these eyes
I know you don't know I've done it a hundred times
But I'm not the only one, where do you have all your fun
'Cause you know I don't know where you go when you run

And even though you hate me now for saying what I said out loud
To tell you the truth, somehow I thought that you would leave me long ago
'Cause of what I've kept from you, and everything I put you through
The devil would leave me too if only he knew what you'll never know

If the truth hurts, what does it matter
If I don't tell you every little thing that I do

And even though you hate me now for saying what I said out loud
To tell you the truth, somehow I thought that you would leave me long ago
'Cause of what I've kept from you, and everything I put you through
The devil would leave me too if only he knew what you'll never know
Oh, what you'll never know