The Beauty Of Who You Are

Lacrimas Profundere

So, you're here to play with me And bring me to my knees Deceiving me with your delights but I still don't understand th at I can't hold your hand I'll never do

Come on, beautiful friend My love can't find no end Be mine before you leave me again Leave me again You know I can't forget: Tomorrow I'll be dead Save me before you kill me again Kill me again

What? You say you're still confused and you don't want to lose Believing you though it's a lie Go, and stop this tragedy that you create for me You'll never do No happy endings
