

Broken Things

Lacuna Coil

Now sunk in the horizon
We'll watch the hours go by
Fall and then arise again
I hear the darkness breathe

Sunk into the horizon
We'll watch the hours go by
Fall and then arise again
I hear the darkness breathe

Sunk into the horizon
Fall down

Let those tears come down
Let them fade away
Let them burn across your face
As you keep smiling inside
You cannot be afraid of your destiny
All the walls you've built around
Without me right by your side

One two three
The count of your lies
I can see right through your eyes
Read my lips
I cannot fix
All the broken things inside my mind
One two three breaking free
Turn another page and run away
Sick sick sick
No more tricks
Think about the mess you left behind

Sunk into the horizon
We'll watch the hours go by
Fall and then arise again
I hear the darkness breathe

As the sun comes down
Over your regrets
It takes time to heal the pain
But from the scars we will learn
We've been trying so hard
But it was too late
Now you shut the door behind
I won't be right by your side

One two three
The count of your lies
I can see right through your eyes
Read my lips
I cannot fix
One two three breaking free
Turn another page and run away
Sick sick sick

Think about the mess you left behind

Sunk

Fall

One two three

The count of your lies

I can see right through your eyes

Read my lips

I cannot fix

All the broken things inside my mind

One two three breaking free

Turn another page and run away

Sick sick sick

No more tricks

Think about the mess you left behind

Sunk into the horizon

We'll watch the hours go by

Fall and then arise again

I hear the darkness breathe

Sunk into the horizon

Fall down
