

My Love

Ladyhawke

I'm more than a fantasy
I'm shouting to nobody
You build up this empathy
And then you feel lost at sea

I'd rather be hurt than be ignored
I'm running in circles but I'm bored
Of all the apologies
I'm making to nobody, oh

Don't it make you sad to lose my love?
The beating of my heart is not enough
You know you're gonna lose my love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love

I'm watching an old TV
I'm stuck on reality
This one girl's a wannabe
But the other's in agony

They're finding a love to be explored
They'd rather be hurt than be ignored
It's all that we had, you see
It's still all the same to me, oh

Don't it make you sad to lose my love?
The beating of my heart is not enough
You know you're gonna lose my love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love

Waiting for my love, waiting for my lover
Waiting for my love, waiting for my lover
Waiting for my love, waiting for my lover
Waiting for my love, waiting for

You know you're gonna lose my love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love
