

Tomorrow Is Another Day

Ladytron

How's the water?
The blue pill's for you
Are they poisoning all that's left till you're alone in a dark room
And all is forgiven
Water gone
I will comfort you, my blood

The clock is ticking
But a calm looms over your face like you are not alone
I am your scars frozen and framed
For the good times

A photograph found
Bound by your secrets
Hidden deep with old memories
When you were young and beautiful (Beautiful and free)
Myth and fantasy and fantastic times
I never asked you all the damn things I wanted to
But tomorrow is another day
Tomorrow is, tomorrow is another day

Oh father
Watch him pray for you
Is he comforting distraction?
But there's a boy in the corner
And it is forbidden
You alone, is this earth, is this heaven?

The clock is ticking
But a calm looms over your face like you are not alone
I am your scars frozen and framed
For the good times

A photograph found
Bound by your secrets
Hidden deep with old memories
When you were young and beautiful (Beautiful and free)
Myth and fantasy and fantastic times
I never asked you all the fucking things I wanted to
But tomorrow is another day
Tomorrow is, tomorrow is another day