

Spiral

Lakeside X

You try to fall in love but there's heart no more
What was once your heart is now just one big hollow
The whole universe is shining but you're pitch black
Running in a spiral and your light's whacked

Your body is collapsing from gravity
Unable to move, you feel you're losing your sanity
Cannot catch your breath and your bones are breaking Getting invisible, nothing giving, nothing taking

And you feel like going down
To a black hole sun in your heart
Feeling numb
And you're drowning in spiral

If there was a hell it wouldn't make you feel worse
If you wanted to say a prayer you wouldn't get the words
And your fall is getting faster, you're screaming from sorrow
And the time's no more, no today, no tomorrow

This is the end of a broken star
Collapsing in one deep black spiral
