

You

Lakeside X

You're a flare in the air
You're a star to fall
You're a heart that bleeds
My way home

You're a wound that hurts
With a selfish pain
You're a cursed poison
Running through my veins

You're a sinister shade
In the darkest corner
Luring me don't stay, come

Your filthy mind
Behind your eyes
So innocent, and blind

You're clean, divine
You're wings to fly
You're a charming light
You're the whitest white

You're a tender kiss
Like a silent prayer
You're a shining sun
On a blue sky

And if you creep, and if you fly
And you're true, and if you lie
And if you smile, and if you cry
And if you live, and if you die

You're the one

You're a flare in the air
You're a star to fall
You're heart that bleeds
You're a way home

You're a tender kiss
Like a silent prayer
You're a shining sun
On a blue sky

And if you're real, and if you're fake
And if you give, and if you take
And if you sleep, and if you wake
And if you stay, you run away

You're the one
You choose the way
You're love, you're belief, you're light
You choose the way to be here
You're the one
