

Darkness Falls

Lana Lane

I meet the morning sun, first light
Everything's possible, feeling the future's a friend of mine
But through the hourglass of time
Clearer than cellophane, darker than we want to realize
Ah, ah

Darkness falls on every sunny day
Darkness falls takes your breath away

Racing on the wind I glide
Live the impossible, dream like there's never a way to fall
But underneath the warm sunlight
Cold as the winter wind, darker than we can see at all
Ah, ah

Darkness falls on every sunny day
Darkness falls takes your breath away
Darkness falls on the plans that you made
Darkness falls takes your breath away

I meet the morning sun, first light
Sensing the possible, seeing the truth behind all the lies
And smash the hourglass of time
It's clearer than winter air, colder than we want to realize
Ah, ah
