

Tampa

LANY

Stuck in Florida one more night
5 a.m., catch a Tampa flight
I'm just tryna get back home
To a girl who's lied but she don't know I know
I've held it in 'cause I've been on the road
Paul, welcome home

I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this

A text, a call, another fight
I'm always first to apologize
I never know which you I'll get
Am I the only one who gives a shit?
But if I know myself, I know that I won't quit
Paul, you should quit

I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this

I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this
I can do better than this

Better than
