

Valentine's Day

LANY

Counted up the days
Since it went to hell and I watched you walk out
Counted up the ways
I've tried to save myself and I've kept my head down

I think it's time
To give my heart a chance
See if it's healed by now
I think it's time, I think it's time

I'm hanging out with someone else
I think they like me too
Will it last? It's hard to tell
When everything feels so new
Against her hips I find some help
But I know it's not the truth
No matter what I tell myself
She's not as good, she's not as good
She's not as good as you, no

There's not a day
Where the thought of you doesn't wake up with me
Gotta be a way
I could live without ya and not feel empty

I think it's time
To give my heart a chance
Even though it's bleeding
I think it's time, I think it's time

I'm hanging out with someone else
I think they like me too
Will it last? It's hard to tell
When everything feels so new
Against her hips I find some help
But I know it's not the truth
No matter what I tell myself
She's not as good, she's not as good
She's not as good as you

I'll fight all night the feelings that I can't forget
I wish you were sleeping next to me instead
I loved the way your skin would feel against my chest
I pray you're not the best that I will ever get

I'm hanging out with someone else
I think they like me too
Will it last? It's hard to tell
When everything feels so new
Against her hips I find some help
But I know it's not the truth
No matter what I tell myself
She's not as good, she's not as good
She's not as good as you, no

She's not as good as you, no
She's not as good as you
