Feelings

Don't you dare to play with my feelings I can't take it anymore You spin the world around,you turn me upside down I try to stay far away from you Far away from you

Why do you still try When you are the one to blame Why do I still cry It'll never be the same

You are begging me to stay with you But you are driving me insane Get out of my way And I will walk alone I don't wanna be part of your game I don't wanna be part of your game

Why do you still try When you are the one to blame Why do I still cry It'll never be the same
