Riding this one out for something Arriving at a cloud of nothing Slowly come now unfolding I knew I had my doubts but oh

I think about the love we won't discover Living like we do
I think you'll find you'd rather see your mother to remind you

Deeper into sin, oh, deeper Vulgarity don't give in either Take me somewhere else, just somewhere Feels like I am dying a slow death

Arriving at a cloud from nowhere Slowly come down to somewhere

I think about the love we won't discover
Living like we do
I think you'll find you'd rather see your mother to remind you

Midnight

Can't get no rest because my soul's on fire Waking up in sunlight
Indifferent to the clear blue sky

I think about the love we won't discover
Living like we do
I think you'll find you'd rather see your mother to remind you
I think about the love we won't discover
Living like we do
Living like we do
