

Behind Your Eyes

Last Tribe

They are asking all these questions
You don't understand a world
Seeking the future with lies
Still hiding from the truth

When you are sleeping and wander in your dreams
His awake and ready to control your destiny

Who's that behind your eyes
Let him out now to show his face
No more of your disguise
Will fool me ever again

But there is someone else
A voice inside your head
A healing hand of your soul
Giving you peace and comfort

When you are sleeping and wander in your dreams
His awake and ready to control your destiny

Who's that behind your eyes
Let him out now to show his face
No more of your disguise
Will fool me ever again
