

If Tonight Is My Last

Laura Izibor

If an angel came down to me
Asked what I would do differently
I would say nothing you see
I have loved someone truly
And if I do not see tomorrow
You know it's gonna be alright
Cos I got my baby right by my side
And if the rain ain't falling
And the sun ain't shining
It makes no difference to me
I'm right where I wanna be, and

If tonight is my last, what I gotta do
And if tonight is my last, I wanna spend it with you
And if the sky falls down it's gonna be alright
Cos I got you here tonight, ooh

If I had to give all that I own
In return for love that's grown
I would give it gladly
Cos nothing else compares
To the moments that we share
And if the rain ain't falling
And the sun ain't shining
It makes no difference to me
I'm right where I wanna be, and

Only get a short time on this earth
You gotta make each moment worth something beautiful
You gotta give every bit of you
With love, half just won't do ooh, and

It's gonna be alright

It's gonna be alright

If an angel came down to me
Asked what I would do differently
I would say nothing you see
I have loved someone truly
