

Hello Unknown

Laura Story

I've grown accustomed to the way things are
I'm way more comfortable when it's familiar
I want a life where I can guard my heart
Cause easy is easy

I like the solid ground beneath my feet
The kind of road that someone else paved before me
I need a plan that both my eyes can see
But you call me to mystery

I am letting go
Of everything I've known
Farewell predictable
No more playing it safe
I'll free fall into faith
I'll say goodbye control
Hello unknown

I'm prone to find a way to skip the hard
The very trials You would use to refine me
There's beauty You create through every scar
If only I'm willing Lord Jesus, I'm willing

I am letting go
Of everything I've known
Farewell predictable oh
No more playing it safe
I'll free fall into faith
I'll say goodbye control
Hello unknown

What if I follow where You lead
What if the narrow road is steep
You know the plans You have for me
What if it's through the valley deep
What if it's only You and me
I still have everything I need
Jesus, You are everything I need

I am letting go
Of everything I've known
Farewell predictable
No more playing it safe
I'll free fall into faith
I'll say goodbye control
