

I believe those who seek
They will surely find
When they dare to leave the world behind

I believe those who seek
Will see the path unwind
When they find the faith to close their eyes

I will wait for You
I will wait for You
And my heart will be the listener
I will wait for You
I will wait for You
And I will find You in the whisper

I believe that You speak
In the quietness
Even in the chaos I will rest
When I rush, When I race
Tether me to endless grace
And I will surrender once again

In the stillness there is healing
In the calm You mend my soul
In the silence You are speaking
I am not alone

In the stillness there is healing
In the calm You mend my soul
In the silence You are speaking
I am not alone

I will wait
I will wait
I will wait
Yes, I will wait for you
I will wait for you
And my heart will be the listener
I will wait for You
I will wait for You
I will find You in the whisper
