

Swap Places

Lauren Aquilina

I just wanna know if it's real
Or if even exists
I just wanna know how it feels
To not have to feel like this Thought I'd have it figured out by 25
But I keep on dreaming up a different life

Can I swap places with someone who's kinder to themselves?
Can I swap places with someone who doesn't wanna be someone else?
If I swap places maybe I, I'd see myself in different light
If I swap places
If I swap places

I just wanna know what it's like
To not care what anyone thinks
And finally let go of the fight
Where I'm always letting my demons win and I
Is the grass really greener on the other side
Seems like everybody else doesn't have to try

Can I swap places with someone who's kinder to themselves?
Can I swap places with someone who doesn't wanna be someone else?
If I swap places maybe I, I'd see myself in different light
If I swap places
If I swap places

Oh, I just wanna know what it's like, what it's like, what it's like, what it's like
Even if it's just for a night, for a night, for a night, for a night
I just wanna know what it's like, what it's like, what it's like, what it's like
Even if it's just for a night, for a night, for a night, for a night

Can I swap places?
Can I swap places with someone who doesn't wanna be someone else?
If I swap places maybe I, I'd see myself in different light
If I swap places
If I swap places

Can I swap places?
Can I swap places with someone?
Someone
Can I swap places?
Can I?
Can I? Can I? Can I?
Can I swap places?
Can I swap places?
