

Don't you feel unstoppable?
Don't you feel unbreakable?
When every chance feels so good
I found the message in a bottle

And though nothing ever mattered to you
And love is on top of the truth
And there's so much, so much to do
To bring us home
To bring us home!

I'll be climbing up that hill for you,
I'll give everything I can give for you
Close my eyes, click my heels
Close my eyes, click my heels
And I'm home! I'm home!
Honey, I'm coming home.

Are you untouchable?
Are you invincible?
If so, tell me more, tell me more
'Cause from here we can't see the bottom floor
Are we impossible? Are we an obstacle?
And there's so much, so much to do
To bring us home
To bring us home!

I'll be climbing up that hill for you,
I'll give everything I can give for you
Close my eyes, click my heels
Close my eyes, click my heels
And I'm home! I'm home!
Honey, I'm coming home.

I'll travel the world, but I feel like
I'm just standing still
Every time I say goodbye
A piece of me just gets killed
Out of town living, out of suitcases getting old
People claim to know me,
But they cannot pick me up when I'm low!
I'm coming home to my town
You make my frown turn upside down
No more lovey dovey talking on the phone
I'm coming home
I'm coming home

I'll be climbing up that hill for you,
I'll give everything I can give for you
Close my eyes, click my heels
Close my eyes, click my heels
And I'm home! I'm home!
Honey, I'm coming home.
