

Wolf Den

Leah McFall

You send me out
Walking through the forest of doubt
I know they hear me now
Through the moonlit trees
I need your cloak to cover me

Like a child I've wandered into the den
Facing the foolish of the wisest men
I'll keep singing that

Sweet faith
Sweet faith
The wolves are at my side
But I know their teeth can't bite
So I won't hide, no
I'll keep singing that
Sweet faith!

You sent me on a quest
And you hid your treasure in my chest
Maybe they don't know it yet
That my weary eyes disguise the strength inside of me

Like a child I've wandered into the den
Facing the foolish of the wisest men
I'll keep singing that

Sweet faith
Sweet faith
The wolves are at my side
But I know their teeth can't bite
So I won't hide, no
I'll keep singing that
Sweet faith!

I won't run away oh no
Won't run away oh no
When the wolves say "go home, go home!"
I'll wait for you, its time
To let love rule my mind
So when the wolves say "go home, go home!"
I'll dare to stay right here and silence fear
In the darkness
I'll keep singing that

Sweet faith
Sweet faith
The wolves are at my side
But I know their teeth can't bite
So I won't hide, no
I'll keep singing that
Sweet faith!
