

All His Saints

Lee Ann Womack

I will one day hold hands with
My eternal family in his presence
And I will one day be above with
His servant angels in Zion

And all his saints will have the mercy of a life eternal
And all his saints will praise him in the lights of the world
Hey, and all his saints will glorify the name of the Lord

Yes, I will one day have a walk with
My Jesus in Heaven
Lord, I will one day have a little talk with him
My savior in Jerusalem

And all his saints will have the mercy of a life eternal
And all his saints will praise him in the lights of the world
Hey, and all his saints will glorify the name of the Lord

I'm looking forward to the day love finally brings me home
I'm looking forward to the day love finally brings me home
To have a little sit down with the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, hey

And all his saints will have the mercy of a life eternal
And all his saints will praise him in the lights of the world
Hey, and all his saints will glorify the name of the Lord

And all his saints will have the mercy of a life eternal
And all his saints will praise him in the lights of the world
